

About

I am a Principal level Product Designer

I design platforms that bring disconnected workflows together and put people in control. Partner ecosystems, enterprise tools, and legacy systems at Yahoo, Headspace, and Airbnb. I started an AI-assisted prototyping pilot, and I build my own tools, including my portfolio, with Claude Code. I start with research that resets the roadmap and carry the work through launch.

Experience

Yahoo

Global media network connecting publishers with audiences across news, finance, and sports.

Principal Product Designer, Platform • 2023 – Present

- Sole design lead on the Yahoo Partner Portal, from inception to its June 2026 launch for 8,700+ media partners (Gannett, Business Insider, Penske). Retired two legacy systems at launch.
- Created and led an AI-assisted prototyping pilot: 13 dashboard pages built in the production repo with Cursor and Claude.
- Ran publisher research (13 interviews, 27-partner survey, 2 rounds of prototype testing) that reshaped the roadmap and narrowed the platform to a focused analytics product.
- Authored the data visualization accessibility guidelines underpinning Lightyear design system chart documentation.

Headspace

Mental health platform offering meditation, coaching, and therapy to consumers and employers.

Senior Product Designer • 2020 – 2023

- Led B2B design for Fortune 500 and healthcare partners; work helped enable the company's largest B2B deal ($3.6M).
- Led the first major Admin research (17 interviews, 147-person survey); proposal to split internal and external portals reoriented the roadmap.

Airbnb

Travel marketplace connecting hosts and hotels with guests for stays and experiences.

Experience Designer • 2019 – 2020

- Led hotel partner onboarding and reservations design after the HotelTonight acquisition: room types, tax collection, contracts.
- In 3 rounds of usability testing, cut onboarding time 30–40% and setup errors ~25%, and raised partner CSAT ~15 points. Launched Q1 2020.

HotelTonight

Mobile-first app for booking last-minute hotel stays, from boutique to luxury.

Acquired by Airbnb 2019

Senior Product Designer • 2017 – 2019

- Sole designer on the iOS app redesign as HotelTonight moved from discount deals to a premium brand. Owned the design system across web and mobile and mentored junior designers.
